

HOW THE IMPROVING LEARNING OUTCOMES FOR ASIA (ILOA) ACTIVITY CAN HELP USAID MISSIONS

The ILOA Activity will provide analytical and implementation support services to the Asia Regional Bureau and USAID Missions in Asia including designing, implementing, and evaluating a full range of education programming, including but not limited to:

- Impact evaluations, student learning assessments and datasets, studies, guides, and policy briefs
- Analyses, such as cost-effectiveness; political economy; and diversity, equity, and inclusion
- Mission-level buy-ins for pilots or “bridge” activities
- Surge support through short- and long-term technical assistance
- Regional networking and knowledge dissemination
- Training and capacity-development activities for Mission staff and counterparts

AREAS OF EXPERTISE:

Higher Education	Early Childhood Education	Early Grade Reading & Mathematics	Resilience, Including Climate Change
Basic & Secondary Education	Workforce Development	Gender & Social Inclusion	Localization

Partnering & Regional Networking Arrangements

RTI International

Prime contractor, leads all facets of ILOA implementation and technical assistance

Central Asia
Regional Network Partner
Aga Khan Foundation
Afghanistan
Kazakhstan
Kyrgyz Republic
Pakistan
Tajikistan
Turkmenistan
Uzbekistan

South Asia
Regional Network Partner
Central Square Foundation
Bangladesh
India
Nepal
Sri Lanka

Southeast Asia
Regional Network Partner
SEAMEO INNTECH
Burma
Cambodia
East Timor
Indonesia
Laos
Pacific Islands
Philippines
Vietnam
Regional Development Mission (Thailand)

Technical Partners

Delivery Associates

Regional networking, systems strengthening, capacity building

International Rescue Committee

Education in fragile contexts, resilience

Long Story Short

High-quality, innovative communication/ dissemination products

CONTACTS:

USAID – Nitika Tolani, COR (ntolani@usaid.gov), Samantha Alvis, ACOR (salvis@usaid.gov)

RTI – Steve Backman, Project Director (sbackman@rti.org), Meredith McCormac, Deputy Project Director (mmccormac@rti.org)