Statement from The Ministry of Education, Science, Technology

The Malawi government through the Ministry of Education, Science and Technology (MoEST) is committed to improving the quality of education. That is because both national and international research evidence indicates that since mid-nineties, the quality of education in Malawi, especially in the primary school sub-sector had been going down. While, the situation can be linked to a number of interrelated factors, the MoEST recognises that learning to read and write is a corner stone of providing learners with quality education. Moreover, language is a very important human activity. We use it in almost everything we do. Accordingly, the ability to acquire and use the essential core language elements of listening, speaking, reading, writing, critical thinking and reasoning and structure and use of language cannot develop fully without some formal education. Therefore, in an attempt to find solutions to the lowering standards in reading achievements, government with support from the United States Agency for International Development (USAID) and the Department for International Development (DFID) is implementing a literacy intervention in the primary schools across the country. This is being implemented under the National Reading Programme.

It is the sincere hope that through the National Reading Programme, 50 percent of learners that complete Standard 3 will be able to read. I therefore call upon a concerted effort from all involved in the programme to fully collaborate so that together we improve the literacy levels of our primary school learners.

Introduction to The National Reading Programme

The Ministry of Education Science and Technology (MoEST) introduced the National Reading Program (NRP) in 2016. This programme has incorporated good teaching and learning practices drawn from several literacy interventions conducted in selected districts across Malawi over the past years. Some of the notable literacy interventions since the implementation of the National Primary Curriculum (NPC) include the Malawi Breakthrough to Literacy (MBTL), Read Malawi, Early Grade Reading Activity (EGRA), Literacy Boost and Strengthening Early Grade Reading in Malawi (SEGREM). All these interventions aimed at improving literacy levels of the early grade learners.

Despite all these interventions, research findings from both the Southern and Africa Consortium for Monitoring Education Quality (SACMEQ) and Malawi National Reading Assessment conducted by MoEST show that the state of reading achievement is below average. For example, out of 15 countries, the SACMEQ II (2005) and SACMEQ III (2011) reports show that Malawi was ranked at positions 14 and 15 respectively. From the aforementioned, it is clear that there is urgent need to improve reading instruction, approaches and materials. This Teacher’s Guide has been developed to address the challenges encountered.

The MoEST is committed to helping all children to read—girls, boys and learners with special needs. That is because reading and writing are fundamental not only to the learners’ completion of the basic education cycle, but also to their future personal, academic and social success. Moreover, English is the business language in Malawi and also an international language. Hence, learning to read and write in English is one of the cornerstones of providing learners with quality education. But the MoEST also recognises that central to achieving the goal of the NRP is building teachers’ capacity to teach foundational reading skills that are key for successful reading and comprehension abilities needed for learning content across the curriculum.

Literacy and Language Development

Literacy and language are key to human development. People use language to inform, warn, persuade or influence others to believe or behave in a particular way. This is achieved through listening, speaking, reading and writing. The ability to read and write well is crucial to learners’ academic achievement. Moreover, when learners have a good understanding of grammar and syntax of a language they are learning, they acquire skills to communicate to a wide range of audiences for different purposes.

Core Elements of Language Development

While most learners will enter Standards 3 with a strong foundation in oral Chichewa, most will not have basic oral language skills in English. Acquiring a new language takes time and explicit instruction. The teaching strategies, texts and activities presented in this Teachers Guide will help you support learners as they learn and practice new vocabulary and language structures in English. Maintain English as the language of instruction, but use Chichewa to help learners understand new words and concepts in English.

The Core Elements of Language Development in English are:
Listening—The learner will be able to listen attentively and critically in order to understand and respond to others in a wide range of situations through a variety of media.

Speaking—The learner will be able to confidently express his/her own ideas fluently and respond appropriately to others orally in a wide range of situations.

Reading—The learner will be able to read fluently and critically to understand and respond to different types of texts for information and enjoyment.

Writing—The learner will be able to write legible, factual and imaginative texts for a wide range of purposes.

Critical thinking and reasoning—The learner will be able to use language to think and reason as well as to access, process and use information for learning.

Structure and use of language—The learner will be able to understand how sounds, words and grammar can be used to create and interpret texts.

The Five components of reading instruction

To learn to read, children need explicit instruction five Components of Reading. These are presented in this Teacher Guide. The outlined five components of reading have specific instructional strategies that are used in the teaching and learning process.

- Phonological Awareness—This describes a learner’s ability to hear and manipulate sounds and sound segments.

- Alphabetic Principle—This is the ability to connect sounds to print.

- Fluency—This is the ability to read texts with speed, accuracy, expression and understanding.

- Vocabulary—This is the ability to understand the meanings of words and to put those words into use.

- Comprehension—This involves the ability to understand oral and written texts.

To guide you, the introductory pages have been organized as follows:

Organization of this teacher’s guide

This teacher’s guide is divided into two sections which are the introduction and the teaching units. The introduction includes the rationale for developing for learning language and literacy, overview of the National Reading Programme in the light of the National Reading Strategy and description of the five essential components of reading.

Rationale for learning language and literacy

Language and literacy are key to human development. People use language to get things done, to inform, warn, persuade or influence others to believe or behave in a particular way. This is achieved through listening, speaking, reading and writing. The ability to read and write well is crucial to children’s academic achievement. Moreover, when children have a good understanding of grammar and syntax of a language they are learnings, they acquire skills to communicate to a wide range of audiences for different purposes.

Core elements and their outcomes

Listening

The learner will be able to listen attentively and critically, and to understand and respond to others in a wide range of situations through a variety of media.

Speaking

The learner will be able to confidently express his/her own ideas fluently and respond appropriately to others orally in a wide range of situations.

Reading

The learner will be able to read fluently and critically to understand and respond to different types of texts for enjoyment and information.

Writing

The learner will be able to write legible, factual and imaginative texts for a wide range of purposes.

Critical thinking and reasoning

The learner will be able to use language to think and reason as well as to access, process and use information for learning.
Structure and use of language
The learner will be able to understand how sounds, words and grammar can be used to create and interpret texts.

Part 1: Overview of the National Reading Programme
The goal of the National Reading Programme (NRP) is to improve the literacy skills of the early grade learners. Hence, the programme is particularly concerned with the reading achievements of Standard 1 to 4 learners. Through the NRP the target is to ensure that at least 50 percent of learners that complete Standard 4 must be able to read (MoEST, 2014). In order to realize its goal, the NRP focuses on the four strategies that are well described in the Malawi National Reading Strategy (NRS) document. These are: effective reading instruction; learners’ assessment; teacher preparation and; family and community support.

The next sub–section briefly describes each strategy. This is followed by a description of the five essential components of reading.

Strategy 1: Effective reading instruction
In the NRS, it is emphasized that effective reading instruction includes a focus on teaching reading in an explicit and systematic way. Explicit means that a concept is directly taught and modelled. As for the systematic means, the instructional materials are aligned so that the language components to be taught should progress from simple to complex. Therefore, the NRP has aligned this teacher’s guide and learner’s book while integrating the essential components of reading, with oral language development skills and writing activities.

Strategy 2: Assessment
Assessment is one of the crucial activities in the teaching and learning process. It involves gathering, recording, interpreting, using, and reporting information on learners’ progress and achievement in developing knowledge, skills and attitudes. The primary purpose of classroom based assessment is to inform you what adjustments you need to make during instructions so that your learners’ needs are met. Therefore, in NRP assessment is an integral part of the teaching and learning process.

Strategy 3: Teacher Preparation
The NRS recognizes that central to achieving the quality of education in Malawi is the updating of the teachers’ knowledge through professional development activities. Accordingly, the NRP also recognizes that central to achieving its goal is building teacher capacity by providing them with opportunities for training and ongoing professional development through coaching. The ongoing teacher professional development will help to strengthen the teachers’ capacity to teach the foundational reading skills that are key to developing comprehension skills in the learners.

Strategy 4: Families and communities
The MoEST also recognizes that apart from the teachers, family and community members are important in nurturing a culture of reading in the learners. Hence, the NRP has a component of community mobilization and engagement to ensure that the School Management Committees (SMCs) and the wider community at village level collaborate in developing the learners’ literacy skills at home.

In line with the above strategies, the National Reading Program emphasizes on five essential components of reading. These are: Phonological awareness, alphabetic principle, vocabulary, fluency and comprehension.

The next section briefly introduces you to each of the essential components of reading for standard 4 learners emphasized in the NRP.

Components of Reading Instruction

Component 1: Phonological awareness
This involves learners’ ability to hear and manipulate sounds and sound segments.

Component 2: Alphabetic principle
This is the ability to connect sounds to print.

Component 3: Fluency
This is the ability to read texts with speed, accuracy, expression and understanding.

Component 4: Vocabulary
This is the ability to understand the meanings of words and to put those words into use.

Component 5: Comprehension
This involves the ability to understanding oral and written texts.

The five components of reading have specific instructional strategies to be used in the teaching and learning process.

Part 2: The Components of Reading Instruction for Standard 4 learners

Of the five essential components of reading that have been stated above, the following are emphasized in standard 4; vocabulary, fluency and comprehension. In order to teach these skills effectively, the teacher is required to teach them in relation to oral language, grammar and writing.

In this section, we present a brief description of the components which are relevant for standard 4 learners, their relevance to development of reading skills, and activities that have been included in this teacher’s guide to help standard 4 learners develop into strong readers.

Part 3: An overview of this teacher’s guide

This teacher’s guide for Standard 4 contains a total of 33 units. Of these, 27 are teaching units which have central themes or topics to be covered. The other 6 are review and assessment units. It is also important to know that the units in this teacher’s guide correspond to the units in the learners’ books.

You will also find out that each unit is divided into 10 lessons to be taught in a week. The ninth lesson is meant for more independent practice in reading through the reading of supplementary readers. In this lesson learners will be required to read a text of their choice. The tenth lesson, which marks the end of a unit, is a review lesson or unit assessment in which no new work is taught. This provides an opportunity for the teacher to assess the learners’ achievement of the success criteria in a unit and revise any work that learners struggled with to understand within a unit.

In addition, each scripted lesson has a total of 3 to 4 activities to enhance the learners’ skills in oral fluency, vocabulary, reading comprehension, grammar and writing. However, this does not mean that all the components must be covered in a single lesson. In other words, each lesson integrates a number of these components.

The next section provides you with an overview of the lesson framework to show how the components are integrated.

Part 4: Lesson framework

The table below shows the focus of English language instruction as presented in this teacher’s guide. It also provides an overview of how the components are integrated in each lesson.

Review and Assessment Lesson

This is the tenth lesson in the teaching units where you have to choose 2 – 4 success criteria that learners need more practice and use this time to revise the activities. Besides the review lesson in every unit, this teacher’s guide also includes 6 review and assessment units.

Review and Assessment units

The review and assessment units will provide you with an opportunity to assess the learners’ achievement after teaching a specific number of units. It will also provide you with an opportunity to revise the work that has been covered over a period of 4 to 5 weeks. Each review and assessment unit also contains 10 lessons.

Table 2 below provides an overview of how you can handle the review and assessment units.

Lesson 10

Assessment
- assess learners in the work covered in Lessons 5 to 8 only (cycle 2) of the target units.

Note: As the teacher is assessing some learners, the other learners can be asked to read any supplementary readers

As standard 4 teachers, it is important to note that the first four revision lessons (1 to 4) focus on revising the content covered in lessons 1 to 4 of every teaching unit. Then, in Lesson 5, it is also suggested that you should assess the content covered in lessons 1 to 4 of the target units. As you assess some learners, the other learners can be asked to read any supplementary readers from lessons 9 of the first 2 target units. When concluding the assessment lesson, you should ask some learners to talk about what they have learnt.

Then, for Lessons 6-9 it is suggested that you should revise the content that was covered in lessons 5 to 8 of the target units. In Lesson 10, you should also assess learners in the content that was covered in lessons 5-8 of the target units. As you assess some learners in Lesson 10, the other learners can be asked to read any supplementary or review unit story. When concluding the assessment lesson, you should ask some learners to talk about what they have learnt.

Teaching, learning and assessment methods

Effective teaching and learning involves the participation of both the teacher and the learners in the lesson. This requires the teacher to ask questions, initiate ideas and facilitate the learning process while the learners answer questions, discuss ideas in pairs or groups or act out a situation. These strategies promote understanding of the concepts and application of ideas in solving problems. The following are some of the teaching and learning methods used in this guide.

Pair work

Pair work involves the learners talking to each other or doing an activity in twos. There are two types of pair work; open and closed. Open or demonstration pair work involves two learners talking to each other while other learners are listening and watching. Closed pair work, on the other hand, involves all learners talking to each other in twos at the same time.

How to conduct pair work

The following are some of the guidelines for conducting pair work:
- tell the learners to hold hands with a friend. Then pair those who are not holding hands.
- use numbers one, two, one, two. Then tell the ones to pair with the twos.
- make the two learners sit in front of the class, turn towards each other and tell the rest of the class to do the same.

How to make pair work successful

Some of the ways to make pair work successful are as follows:
the learners must know what to do. This means that there must be a demonstration of the language the learners are going to practise in pairs.

- the learners must know who to work with. Each learner must know his/her partner. They should be trained to work in pairs in order to minimize delays.
- the learners must know when to begin an activity and when to stop it. They should be trained in how to begin and end the activity.

Importance of pair work

Pair work is important since it:

- gives many learners the opportunity to participate within a short time; for example, several learners may read at a time in reading lessons
- gives the teacher a chance to attend to low achievers
- gives shy learners a chance to share ideas and participate in the lesson fully
- is a natural way of learning
- helps the learners to develop confidence, self-esteem and assertiveness
- adds variety to the teaching and learning process
- maximizes the learners’ participation in the lesson

Guidelines for organizing groups

The following are some of the guidelines for organizing groups:

- four to six learners in a group is convenient
- choose quick and clever learners as group leaders
- decide quickly who will form the demonstration group. The teacher may ask group leaders to form a demonstration group. The teacher may also call upon a whole group to demonstrate to the class
- the learners of different abilities or of similar abilities may be put together
- the teacher may take advantage of learners sitting together to form a group.

Later, a definite grouping pattern can be established

Advantages of group work

The following are the advantages of group work:

- it trains the learners in leadership skills
- it maximizes teacher’s assistance to the learners
- it helps the learners to actively participate in the classroom activities
- it promotes social interaction among the learners
- it develops in the learners a sense of responsibility
- it is ideal for carrying out projects

How to manage groups

The following are some of the ways for managing groups:

- give groups names, e.g., names of mountains, rivers, cities, countries or animals
- give individual members of the group names
- choose leaders who are clever and quick. Rotate leadership regularly
- decide quickly who will form the demonstration group
- practise getting into and out of groups with the learners

When I am reading a text, I ask myself questions. Asking myself questions as I read helps me to check my understanding of the story. Now, we will learn how to ask ourselves questions as we read.

Tip: In self-questioning, the questions should be asked as one reads and not after reading.

- Tell learners that in self-questioning, readers ask themselves questions as they read a text in order to understand the story better.
- Ask learners to open their books at page 1.
- Let learners predict the dialogue using the title and illustration.
- Demonstrate self-questioning by reading some lines of the dialogue aloud and ask yourself questions on what you have read. For example, after reading some lines, stop reading and ask yourself: Who is Temwani? If you cannot find the answer, read the lines again. If you find the answer to that question, continue reading say: Temwani is a new learner.
- Read more lines with learners until you reach the part where Chimwemwe and Frank have met Temwani. Say: Can anyone think of a question to ask about the story at this point?
- Listen to self-questions from several learners and provide feedback.
- Ask the learners to read the rest of the dialogue silently while asking themselves questions as they read.
- Walk around and support struggling learners.
- Ask some learners to share their questions to the class.
- Listen and give feedback.

Activity 1.2.3
Fluency: Reading the dialogue by dramatizing it
(8 minutes)

Acting out when reading a dialogue makes the dialogue sound real. This type of reading is called dramatised reading. Now we will read the dialogue My new friend by dramatising it.

- Tell the learners to open their books at page 1.
- Demonstrate dramatised reading by reading part of the dialogue while changing the voice and using gestures.
- Read the dialogue with the whole class while dramatising the role of the characters.
- Tell learners to be in groups of three.
Ask the learners to finish reading the dialogue in their groups, each learner taking the role of one character.
Walk around and assist struggling learners.

Conclusion (2 minutes)
Ask learners to give the meanings of the words lonely, interesting and friendly.

Teacher Reflection
Write your observations in the evaluation section of your lesson plan.

1. For each of the success criteria for today’s lessons, approximately how many or what percentage of learners have achieved them?
2. Which success criteria do the learners appear to be struggling with the most?
3. What will you do to address their difficulties?

UNIT 1 My new friends: Oral Language and Grammar Lesson 3

Success criteria
Learners must be able to:
- introduce oneself
- identify simple present tense
- complete sentences

Suggested resources (in addition to learners’ book)
Sample sentences in simple present tense

Introduction (2 minutes)
Ask learners to say where they meet new friends.

Activity 1.3.1 Oral Language: Introducing oneself (10 minutes)
At the places where we meet new friends, we introduce ourselves as we did in one of the previous lessons. In this lesson, we will introduce ourselves again.
- Remind learners how to introduce oneself by giving our names, where we live and what we like doing.
- Invite some learners to show the class how to introduce oneself.
- Listen to the presentations and give feedback.
- Ask the learners to be in groups of three.
- Ask them to take turns introducing themselves.
- Walk around and help struggling learners.

Activity 1.3.2 Grammar: Identifying simple present tense (8 minutes)
In standard 3 we learnt verb tenses. One of these tenses is the simple present tense. Now we are going to identify verbs that are in simple present tense.
• Write the following sentences on the chalkboard:
  a. She likes nsima.
  b. We live in Kawale.
• Read the sentences while drawing learners’ attention to the verbs likes and live.
• Tell the learners that the verbs; likes and live in these sentences are showing actions that are done repeatedly. These verbs are in simple present tense.
• Tell the learners that the verbs in simple present tense have an s at the end if the sentence has a singular subject and without an s if the sentence has a plural subject.

• Write the following sentences on the chalkboard:
  a. We play football.
  b. She eats nsima every day.
• Ask learners to read the sentences aloud.
• Help learners to identify the simple present tense verb in the sentences.
• Write two more sentences with verbs in simple present tense on the chalkboard as:
  a. They go to church every Sunday.
  b. He drives a car.
• Ask learners to identify simple present tense verbs in these sentences in groups.
• Ask some learners to present their work to the class.
• Listen and give feedback.

Activity 1.3.3 Grammar: Completing sentences (12 minutes)

Now we are going to complete sentences using simple present tense verbs.

- Tell the learners to open their books at page 3.
- Go over the instructions and example for Exercise B.
- Remind students that a simple present tense is a verb tense showing an action that happens repeatedly.
- Discuss with learners items 1 and 2 of Exercise B.
- Repeat I Do and We Do if necessary.
- Ask learners to complete the exercise in their exercise books.
- Walk around and help struggling learners.
- Ask some learners to read their answers to the class.
- Listen and give feedback.

Conclusion (3 minutes)

Ask learners to revise introducing oneself by giving their names, where they live and what they like.
Teacher Reflection

Write your observations in the evaluation section of your lesson plan.

1 For each of the success criteria for today’s lessons, approximately how many or what percentage of learners have achieved them?
2 Which success criteria do the learners appear to be struggling with the most?

UNIT 1 | My new friends: Reading | Lesson 4

Success criteria
Learners must be able to:
- ask themselves questions as they read
- read a dialogue by dramatising it
- answer comprehension questions

Suggested resources (in addition to learners’ book)
Word cards

Introduction

Ask learners to read the following words from the word cards: nice, show and interesting

Activity 1.4.1 | Comprehension: Self-questioning | (10 minutes)
In one of the previous lessons, we learnt how to ask ourselves questions as we read a text to check our understanding. Now, we will ask ourselves questions as we read the dialogue My new friends again.

- Ask learners to open their books at page 1.
- Remind learners how to pause as they read and ask themselves if what they are reading is making sense.
- Read part of the dialogue with learners and help them to ask themselves questions as they read.
- Tell learners to read the remaining part of the dialogue silently and ask themselves questions as they read.
- Walk around and help struggling learners.

Activity 1.4.2 | Fluency: Reading a dialogue by dramatising | (5 minutes)
In one of the previous lessons, we read a dialogue by acting it using appropriate gestures and voice. This is dramatised reading. Now we will read the dialogue My new friend using dramatised reading again.

- Tell the learners to open their books at page 1.
- Demonstrate dramatised reading by reading part of the dialogue while changing the voice and using gestures.
- Read the dialogue with learners while dramatising the characters.
- Help learners if they are struggling and give feedback.

- Tell learners to be in groups of three.
- Ask the learners to finish reading the dialogue in their groups, each learner taking the role of one character.
- Ask some groups to read to the class.
- Listen and give feedback.

Activity 1.4.3 Comprehension: Answering questions orally (15 minutes)

When answering questions, we look at words that are used to ask questions. Now we will answer questions that use who, what, why, when, where and how.

- Tell the learners that the words who, what, why, when, where and how are used for asking questions. Say:
  1. who is used to ask about a person or people in a story,
  2. what is used to ask about a thing,
  3. why is used to ask the reason for something,
  4. how to ask about the way something is,
  5. where is used to ask for the place, and
  6. when is used for time.

- Write the question words on the board.
- Model answering comprehension questions for all question words. Say: Who are the three learners in the dialogue? First I look at the question word, who. Who tells me it is about people. I look at the text and find the name of the people in the story. Then I can say, ‘The three learners are Frank, Chimwemwe and Temwani.’

- Answer the second question with the learners as a class.
  - Say: Look at the next question. First look at the question word. The question word is...?
  - Let learners respond.
  - Read the next question with the learners. How old is Chimwemwe?
  - Tell them to go through the text and find the answer in the dialogue. (Chimwemwe is 9 years old).

- Let the learners answer the remaining questions orally.
- Listen to the answers and give feedback.

Conclusion (3 minutes)

Ask learners to share their experiences about being new at school.

Teacher Reflection

Write your observations in the evaluation section of your lesson plan.

1. For each of the success criteria for today’s lessons, approximately how many or what percentage of learners have achieved them?
2. Which success criteria do the learners appear to be struggling with the most?
3. What will you do to address their difficulties?

- Walk around and help struggling learners.
- Discuss the answers to the pre-questions with the learners.

Activity 1.7.2 | Comprehension: Talking about a text | (5 minutes)

Now we will talk about the dialogue we have read.
Tell the learners what you think about Chimwemwe’s behaviour in the dialogue. For example, say: I think Chimwemwe is a good girl. She has welcomed the new learner Temwani.

Tell learners to work in pairs.

Help the learners to say what they think about Frank’s behaviour in this dialogue. Remind students to use full sentences to say what they think.

Ask learners to discuss in pairs what they think about Temwani’s behaviour in this dialogue.

Walk around and help struggling learners.

Let learners present their discussions to the class.

Listen and give feedback.

Activity 1.7.3

Comprehension: Writing answers to comprehension questions (15 minutes)

Now we will answer questions on the dialogue we have read.

- Ask the learners to turn their books at page 2.
- Read the first questions to the learners.
- Demonstrate answering the question on the chalkboard in a full sentence as: The learners in the dialogue are Chimwemwe, Frank and Temwani.
- Together with learners answer the second question in full.
- Repeat I Do and We Do if necessary.
- Tell the learners to write answers to the rest of the questions in their exercise books.
- Walk around and help struggling learners.

UNIT 1
My new friends: Supplementary reading
Lesson 9

Success criteria
Learners must be able to:
- read supplementary readers
- retell stories

Suggested resources
supplementary readers

Introduction (2 minutes)
Ask learners to retell interesting stories they have read or heard.

Activity 1.9.1 Reading supplementary readers (20 minutes)
Being able to read on our own is an exciting experience. We can learn to read on our own when we are given a chance to read a text or book of our choice. Today we will choose a text or book we would like to read. As we read we should be asking ourselves questions about the text.

- Display different levelled texts and books on the table.
- Tell learners that when they read a book of their choice, they should find out where the story takes place, who are the characters, and what happens in the story.
- Pick one of the books on the table. Demonstrate how you find out more about the book by looking at the title, the cover, and the pages.
- Tell them you will read that book.
- Help learners to pick a text or book of their choice from the displayed supplementary readers.
- Let them read the text they have chosen.
- Monitor learners as they are reading.

Activity 1.9.2 Retelling stories (10 minutes)
We have read different stories. Now we are going to tell the class what we have read.

- Use the book you picked to demonstrate to the learners how to retell the story.
- Say where the story takes place, who are the characters, and what happens in the story.
• Help one or two learners to retell the story they have read by saying where the story takes place, who are the characters, and what happens in the story.
• Listen and give feedback.
• Ask learners to retell the stories they have read to the class.
• Listen and give feedback.

Conclusion (3 minutes)
Ask learners to say which of the stories they listened to were the most interesting and why.

word cards, chart, tooth paste, toothbrush

Introduction
(2 minutes)
Ask learners to say how they take care of their bodies.

Activity 2.1.1
Oral Language: Giving and taking advice
(15 minutes)
Taking care of our bodies is important for our health. In this lesson, we will give and take advice on how we should take care of our bodies.

• Call one learner and advise him/her as follows:
  a. You should brush your teeth three times every day.
  b. You should take a bath every morning.
  c. You should comb your hair every day.
• Help the learner to say ‘Yes, I will’ after each piece of advice.
• Exchange roles with the learner.
• Help several learners to give and take advice about caring for their body.
• Ask learners to work in pairs and practise giving and taking advice.
• Walk around and help struggling learners.
• Let some pairs give and take advice while the rest are watching and listening.
• Listen and give feedback.

Activity 2.1.2
Writing: writing sentences on giving advice
(15 minutes)
Now we will write sentences on giving advice from a table.

• Tell learners to open their books at page 7.
• Go over the instruction and example for Exercise A orally.
• Make two sample sentences from the table with the learners.
• Repeat I do and We do if necessary.
• Ask learners to write the sentences in their exercise books.
• Walk around and help struggling learners.
• Ask some learners to read their answers to the class.
• Listen and give feedback.

Conclusion
(3 minutes)
Ask learners in pairs to give and take pieces of advice on taking care of the body.
UNIT 2  |  Taking care of the body: Reading  |  Lesson 2

Success criteria
Learners must be able to:
- give meanings of words
- ask themselves questions as they read
- read a text using buddy reading

Suggested resources (in addition to learners’ book)
word cards

Introduction
(2 minutes)

Ask learners how they take care of their body.

---

Activity 2.2.1
Vocabulary: Giving meanings of words
(10 minutes)

Now we will learn meanings of words. This will help us to understand the story we are going to read.

- Write the word advice on the chalkboard.
- Read the word aloud.
- Read the word again with learners several times.
- Ask learners who know the meaning of the word to raise their hands.
- Ask the learners who have raised hands to say the meaning of the word to the class.
- Consolidate the meaning of the word using appropriate strategies.
- Do the same with bamboo and remove.
- Write the words reduce and prevent on the chalkboard.
- Let the learners read the words aloud.
- Let learners give the meanings of the words.
- Consolidate the meanings of the words using appropriate strategies.

Activity 2.2.2
Comprehension: Self-questioning
(10 minutes)

In one of the previous lessons, we learnt how to ask oneself questions while reading a text to check understanding. Now, we will ask ourselves questions as we read the story Caring for the body.

Tip: In self-questioning, the questions should be during one reads and not after reading.

- Ask learners to open their books at page 6.
- Ask learners to predict the story using the title and illustration.
- Tell learners that they will read this story while asking themselves questions as they read it.
- Remind learners to make some pauses as they read and ask themselves questions.
- Ask learners to say some questions they can ask when reading a story. Remind them to use question words (who, what, why, how, where, and when.)
- Listen and provide feedback.
• Tell learners to read the story silently and ask themselves questions as they read.
• Walk around and help struggling learners.

Activity 2.2.3
Fluency: Reading a text using buddy reading (10 minutes)

Now we are going to read a story using buddy reading. Buddy means friend. In buddy reading, readers read with their friends while helping each other. Buddy reading helps readers to learn correct pronunciation of words from their friends and improve reading speed.

• Tell learners to open the learners’ book at page 6.
• Demonstrate buddy reading with a learner by reading the first paragraph while helping him/her in correct pronunciation of words.
• Read the same paragraph with the learners using buddy reading.
• Tell learners to be in pairs and practise buddy reading.
• Walk around and help struggling learners.

Conclusion (3 minutes)

Ask learners to give meanings of the words they have learnt from the word cards.

UNIT 2
Taking care of the body: Oral Language and Grammar
Lesson 3

Success criteria
Learners must be able to:
• give and take advice
• add –ing to verbs according to their groups
• write verbs by adding –ing

Suggested resources (in addition to learners’ book)
A list of –ing verbs

Introduction (2 minutes)

Ask learners to say what they do to take care of their bodies.

Activity 2.3.1
Oral Language: Giving and taking advice (10 minutes)

In one of the previous lessons, we learnt how to give and take advice. In this activity, we will give and take advice again.

• Call one learner and advise him/her as follows:
  a. You should take breakfast before coming to school.
  b. You should keep your hair short.
  c. You should respect parents and teachers.
• Help the learner say Yes, I will after each piece of advice.
• Exchange roles with the learner.
• Ask learners to be in pairs and help them to give and take advice.
• Let learners exchange roles.

• Ask learners to work in pairs and practise giving and taking advice.
• Walk around listen and give feedback.

Activity 2.3.2 Grammar: Adding –ing to words (10 minutes)

Some verbs can be changed by adding –ing at the end of the word. Today we will add –ing to verbs according to their groups. To the first group, we add –ing to the word. To the second group, we double the consonant and add –ing. To the third group, we drop the e then add –ing.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Add ing</th>
<th>Double the consonant and add ing</th>
<th>Drop the ‘e’ and add ing</th>

<tbody>
<tr>
<td>eat - eating</td>
<td>mop - mopping</td>
<td>drive - driving</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>walk -</td>
<td>jog -</td>
<td>take -</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>talk -</td>
<td>skip -</td>
<td>make -</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

• Write the following on the chalkboard

• Ask learners to read the words in the table.
• Demonstrate how eating, mopping and driving have been changed by adding ing, doubling the consonant and add –ing, and dropping the e and add –ing, respectively.

• Invite three learners to the front to complete the exercises in the second row of the table on the chalkboard.
• Give feedback.

• Ask learners to work in groups to change the verbs in the third row.
• Ask learners to present their work to the class.
• Listen and give feedback.

Activity 2.3.3 Grammar: Writing verbs by adding -ing (10 minutes)

Now we will add –ing to the verbs.

• Ask learners to open their books at page 8.
• Go over the instruction and example for Exercise B orally.

• Discuss verbs shown in the example for the first, second, and third rows. Remind learners how in the previous day, they added -ing to verbs categorized into one of three types of groups: adding -ing, doubling the consonant and add –ing, and dropping the e and add –ing.
• Repeat I Do and We Do if necessary.

• Ask learners to complete the exercise in their exercise books.
• Walk around and help struggling learners.
• Ask some learners to read their answers to the class.
• Listen and give feedback.

Conclusion (3 minutes)

Ask learners to give other verbs that end with –ing.

UNIT 2 Taking care of the body: Oral Language and grammar Lesson 5

Success criteria
Learners must be able to:
- express opinions
- use present continuous tense
- complete a paragraph using present continuous tense

Suggested resources (in addition to learners’ book)
sample sentences of present continuous tense

Introduction (2 minutes)

Ask learners to say why they should brush their teeth daily.

Activity 2.5.1 Oral Language: Expressing opinions (8 minutes)

Sometimes we share what we think with others. This helps them know what we believe or think about something. This is expressing opinions. Today, we are going to express opinions.

- Demonstrate expressing opinions on Caring for the body. For example:
  a. I think it is good to drink water every morning because it is good for our health.
  b. In my opinion, it is important to bathe every day to remove dirt.

- Call a learner and help him/her to express his/her opinion.
- Do the same with several learners.
- Listen and give feedback.

- Tell learners to be in pairs and express their opinions on Caring for the body.
Activity 2.5.2
Grammar: Using present continuous tense (8 minutes)

In one of the previous lessons, we changed verbs by adding –ing. Verbs ending with –ing show that the action is continuous. In this activity, we are going to use the present continuous tense.

- Write the following sentences on the chalkboard:

  a. John ______ (play) with a ball.

  b. I am ______ (write) a letter.

  c. They ______ (watch) football.

  d. She ______ (eat) nsima.

  e. They ______ (dance) Malipenga.

  f. I ____ (ride) a bicycle.

- Demonstrate changing the first three sentences to present continuous tense as:

  a. John is playing with a ball.

  b. I am writing a letter.

  c. They are watching football.

- Remind learners that in a previous lesson they learnt that when adding –ing to verbs, they can be categorized into one of three types of groups: adding ing, doubling the consonant and add –ing, and dropping the e and add –ing.

- Explain to the learners that is is added before the verb when the sentence has a singular subject and are when the sentence has a plural subject and am when the subject is in first person singular. Finally, we add –ing to the verb in the sentence. Tell learners that these sentences are in present continuous tense.

  Present continuous tense is a verb showing an action that is taking place now and is continuing.

- Change sentence d to present continuous tense together with learners.

- Ask learners to be in pairs and change the remaining sentences to present continuous tense.
- Walk around and help struggling learners.
- Repeat I Do and We Do if necessary.

Activity 2.5.3
Grammar: Completing a paragraph using present continuous tense (15 minutes)

Now we are going to complete a paragraph using present continuous tenses.

- Ask learners to open their books at page 9.
- Go over the instruction and example for Exercise C.
- Discuss with learners how to fill the first blank space.
- Repeat I Do and We Do if necessary.
- Ask learners to complete the exercise in their exercise books.
- Walk around and help struggling learners.
- Ask some learners to read their answers to the class.
- Listen and give feedback.

Activity 2.7.2  Comprehension: Talking about a text  (8 minutes)

Now we will talk about the story we have read.

- Tell learners what you think about the story. For example, say: I think this is a good story because it gives us advice on how to take care for our bodies.

- Help learners to say what they think about the story using the following guiding question: What do you like/dislike in the story?
  - Listen and give feedback.

- Ask learners to discuss in groups what they liked or did not like about the story.
  - Walk around and help struggling learners.
  - Let learners present their discussions to the class.
  - Listen and give feedback.

Activity 2.7.3  Comprehension: Writing answers to comprehension questions  (10 minutes)

Now we are going to answer questions on the story we have read.

- Ask the learners to open their books at page 7.
- Read the first question to the learners.
- Demonstrate answering the question on the chalkboard in full sentence as: We can care our bodies by bathing and combing our hair.
- Read aloud the written response.

- Together with the learners answer the second question in full.
- Repeat I Do and We Do if necessary.

- Tell the learners to write answers to the rest of the questions in their exercise books.
- Walk around and help struggling learners.
- Ask some learners to read their answers to the class.
- Listen and give feedback.

Conclusion  (3 minutes)

Ask learners to retell the story they have read.
UNIT 2
Taking care of the body: Productive Writing
Lesson 8

Success criteria
Learners must be able to:
- give ways of caring for the body
- write a paragraph

Suggested resources (in addition to learners’ book)
sample paragraph

Introduction
(2 minutes)
Ask learners to give three reasons why it is important to take care of the body.

Activity 2.8.1
Oral Language: Giving ways for caring the body
(10 minutes)
In previous lessons, we talked about giving and taking advice on how to care for our bodies. In this lesson, we will give ways of caring for our body.

- Revise ways of caring for the body, such as:
  - a. We should keep our hair short.
  - b. We should brush our teeth every day.
  - c. We should comb our hair.
  - d. We should take a bath every day.
- Discuss with learners other ways of caring for our bodies.
- Ask learners to be in pairs and discuss more ways of taking care for their bodies.
- Walk around and help struggling learners.

Activity 2.8.2
Productive Writing: Writing a paragraph
(20 minutes)
Now we will plan and write a paragraph on Taking care of my body using guiding questions and boxes. Each question is represented by a box. The first box is for the topic sentence and the other boxes are for supporting points to the topic sentence. The topic sentence carries the main idea. Supporting points give more information about what is said in the topic sentence.

- Tell learners to open their books at page 10.
- Go over the instruction for Exercise E.
- Demonstrate how to plan and write a paragraph using the guiding questions and boxes.
- Tell the learners the connection between the topic sentence and supporting points.
- Discuss with learners how to come up with supporting points by answering the second guiding question.
- Let learners plan and write a paragraph using the guiding questions and boxes in their exercise books.
- Walk around and help struggling learners.
Conclusion

(3 minutes)

Ask learners to read their paragraphs to the class.

UNIT 2
Taking care of the body: Supplementary Reading
Lesson 9

Success criteria
Learners must be able to:
- read supplementary readers
- retell stories

Suggested resources (in addition to learners’ book)
Supplementary readers

Introduction

(2 minutes)

Tell learners to retell interesting stories they have read or heard.

Activity 2.9.1
Reading supplementary readers
(20 minutes)

Being able to read on our own is an exciting experience. We can learn to read on our own when we are given a chance to read a text or book of our choice. Today we will choose a text or book we would like to read. As we read we should be asking ourselves questions about the text.

- Display different levelled texts and books on the table.
- Tell learners that when they read a book of their choice, they should find out where the story takes place, who are the characters, and what happens in the story.
- Pick one of the books on the table. Demonstrate how you find out more about the book by looking at the title, the cover, and the pages.
- Tell them you will read that book.
- Help learners to pick a text or book of their choice from the displayed supplementary readers.
- Let them read the text they have chosen.
- Monitor learners as they are reading.

Activity 2.9.2
Retelling stories
(10 minutes)

We have read different stories. Now we are going to tell the class what we have read.

- Use the book you picked to demonstrate to the learners how to retell the story.
- Say where the story takes place, who are the characters, and what happens in the story.
- Help learners to retell the story they have read by saying where the story took place, who are the characters, and what happens in the story.
- Listen and give feedback.
- Ask learners to retell the stories they have read to the class.
- Listen and give feedback.
Conclusion
(3 minutes)
Ask learners to say which of the stories they listened to were the most interesting and why.

a list of situations for expressing approval

Introduction
(2 minutes)
Ask learners to say some good things they or other people do.

Activity 3.1.1
Oral Language: Identifying situations for expressing approval
(5 minutes)
When we tell someone that they have done something good, we are expressing approval. This encourages people to continue doing good things. In this lesson, we will learn when to express approval.
- Tell learners situations for expressing approval. For example, when a learner answers a question correctly; when a learner dresses smartly.
• Discuss with learners other situations that require expressing approval at school or at home.

• Ask learners to work in pairs and think of more situations that require expressing approval at school or at home.
• Let learners present their work to the class.
• Listen and give feedback.

Activity 3.1.2 Oral Language: Expressing approval (12 minutes)
We have discussed situations for expressing approval. Now we will learn how we should express approval in such situations.
• Tell learners that when someone gets high marks, you say: Well done, keep it up! When someone shows politeness, you say: You are a polite boy/girl. I like your good behaviour.

• Guide learners to express approval using different situations.
• Use expressions like: Well done, Keep it up, I like it and that’s good.
  For example: You have a good handwriting. I like it! You are a smart boy. Keep it up!

• Tell learners to express approval in pairs.
• Let learners present their work to the class.
• Listen and give feedback.

Activity 3.1.3 Writing: Expressing approval (13 minutes)
Now we will complete blank spaces with phrases to express approval.
• Tell learners to open their book at page 13.
• Go over the instruction and example for Exercise A.

• Discuss with learners items 1 and 2.
• Repeat I Do and We Do if necessary.

• Ask learners to complete the exercise in their exercise books.

Activity 3.2.3  Fluency: Reading a story using radio reading  (7 minutes)
Radio news readers read with good speed and accuracy. Readers can copy the way radio news readers read. This is called radio reading. Now we will read a story like them.

- Ask learners to open their books at page 11.

Introduction

Ask learners if they have ever sent or received messages.

Activity 4.1.1
Oral Language: Identifying situations for sending messages

Sometimes we send messages to others. In this activity, we will mention some of the situations that make us send messages.

- Tell the learners some situations that require one to send messages. For example, say: I send a message to my head teacher when I fall sick and cannot come to school.
- Help learners to mention situations that can make them send messages.
- Help them say: I send a message to... when...
- Ask learners to work in pairs and think of more situations that can make them send messages.
- Let learners present their work.
- Listen and give feedback.
Activity 4.1.2
Oral Language: Mentioning ways of sending messages
(9 minutes)

Now we will talk about ways of sending messages.

- Tell the learners: When I want to send a message, I use a phone.
- Discuss other ways of sending messages with learners.
- Help them say: I use... when sending messages.
- Ask learners to be in pairs and identify other ways of sending messages.
- Let them report their answers to the class.
- Listen and give feedback.

Activity 4.1.3

- Discuss with learners items 1 and 2 orally.
- Repeat I Do and We Do if necessary.
- Ask learners to complete the exercise in their exercise books.
- Walk around and help struggling learners.
- Ask some learners to read their answers to the class.
- Listen and give feedback.

UNIT 4
Sending messages: Reading
Lesson 2

Success criteria
Learners must be able to:
- give meanings of new words
- read a dialogue by dramatizing it
- generate questions

Suggested resources (in addition to learners’ book)
Word cards, phones, letter

Introduction
(2 minutes)

Ask learners to give reasons for sending messages.

Activity 4.2.1
Vocabulary: Giving meanings of words
(10 minutes)

Now we will learn meanings of words.

- Write the word safe on the chalkboard.
- Read the word aloud.
- Read the word again with learners several times.
- Ask learners who know the meaning of the word to raise their hands.
- Ask the learners who have raised hands to say the meaning of the word to the class.
- Consolidate the meaning of the word using appropriate strategies.
- Do the same with send and modern.

- Write the words email and reliable on the chalkboard.
- Let learners read the words aloud.
- Let learners give the meaning of the words.
- Consolidate the meaning of the words using appropriate strategies.

Activity 4.2.2  Fluency: Reading the story by dramatising it  (5 minutes)

In Unit 1 we read a dialogue by dramatizing it. In dramatised reading, readers read the text with actions. Now we will read the dialogue Sending messages by dramatising it.

- Tell the learners to open their books at page 16.
- Predict the dialogue using the title and illustration.
- Demonstrate dramatised reading by reading part of the dialogue while changing the voice and using gestures.

- Read the dialogue with the whole class in a dramatized way while changing the voice and gestures.
- Tell learners to be in pairs.
- Ask the learners to read the dialogue in pairs by dramatising it.
- Walk around and help struggling learners.
- Ask some pairs to read the dialogue to the class while dramatising it.
- Listen and give feedback.

Activity 4.2.3  Comprehension: Generating questions  (15 minutes)

In standard 3, we learnt how to generate questions after reading a text. In generating questions, readers formulates some questions from the text they have read and provide answers. Readers should reread the text when they fail to give answers to some of the questions they have generated. This helps them to have a better understanding of the text. In this activity, we will generate questions from the dialogue Sending messages.

Tip: Generating questions is done after reading and not during reading.

- Demonstrate generating questions by reading the dialogue and asking additional questions to the ones in the book. For example: What are some of the ways of sending messages? Pretend that you do not have an answer to the question and reread the dialogue to find the answer.

- Generate more questions with learners from the dialogue and answer them as a class or reread the dialogue if you do not have answers to some of the asked questions.

- Let learners generate more questions from the dialogue in groups and answer them.
- Walk around and help struggling learners.
- Ask the groups to share to the class the questions they have generated and their answers.
- Listen and give feedback.
Ask learners to revise the meanings of the words modern and reliable.

- Ask learners to be in pairs and tell each other ways of sending messages they prefer and why.
- Walk around and help struggling learners.
- Let learners share their preferred ways of sending messages and their reasons to the class.
- Listen and give feedback.

---

Activity 4.5.2

- Tell learners that the word red in the sentence has been used as an adjective because it is describing the noun shirt.
- Guide learners to make different sentences using the adjective: wise.
- Ask the learners to work in pairs and make sentences using the remaining adjectives.
- Walk around and help struggling learners.
- Ask learners to share their answers to the class.

- Tell learners that a person that takes part in a story or dialogue is called a character and the place where a story is taking place is called a setting.
- Tell learners that one of the characters in this dialogue is Jane. Jane is an example of a character because she is involved in the dialogue.
- Tell the learners that the story takes place along a village road. Tell learners that the village road is an example of a setting because it is where the story takes place.
- Help learners to identify one other character and setting in the dialogue.
- Repeat I Do and We Do if necessary.

- describe ways of sending message
- writing a paragraph

Suggested resources (in addition to learners’ book)

Chart with jumbled sentences

Introduction (3 minutes)

Ask learners to revise ways of sending messages they learnt in previous lessons.

Activity 4.8.1

Productive Writing: Describing ways of sending message (15 minutes)

Now we will arrange jumbled sentences starting with a topic sentence then supporting points that are describing different ways of sending messages.

- Write the following sentences on the chalkboard:
  1. These ways are easier, faster and safer.
  2. Some of these ways are letters, phone and emails.
  3. Emails and phones are modern ways of sending messages.
  4. There are many ways of sending messages.
- Read the sentences aloud to the learners.
• Remind learners that a paragraph has a topic sentence and supporting points by explaining what these are.
• Tell learners that the sentences are not in the right order.

• Help learners to identify the topic sentence and first supporting point from the jumbled sentences.

• Ask learners to finish identifying the second and fourth supporting points in groups.
• Let learners present their discussions to the class.
• Listen and give feedback.

Activity 4.8.2  Productive Writing: Writing a paragraph  (15 minutes)

UNIT 4  Sending messages: Supplementary Reading  Lesson 9

Success criteria
Learners must be able to:
• read supplementary readers
• retell stories

Suggested resources
Supplementary readers

Introduction  (2 minutes)
Tell learners to retell interesting stories they have read or heard.

Activity 4.9.1  Reading supplementary readers  (20 minutes)
Being able to read on our own is an exciting experience. We can learn to read on our own when we are given a chance to read a text or book of our choice. Today we will choose a text or book we would like to read.

• Display different levelled texts and books on the table.
• Tell learners that when they read a book of their choice, they should find out where the story takes place, who are the characters, and what happens in the story.
• Pick one of the books on the table. Demonstrate how you find out more about the book by looking at the title, the cover, and the pages.
• Tell them you will read that book.

• Guide learners to pick a text or book of their choice from the displayed supplementary readers.

• Let them read the text they have chosen.
• Monitor learners as they are reading.

Activity 4.9.2  Retelling stories (10 minutes)

We have read different stories. Now we are going to tell the class what we have read.

- Use the book you picked to demonstrate to the learners how to retell the story.
- Say where the story takes place, who are the characters, and what happens in the story.

- Help learners to retell the story they have read by saying where the story takes place, who are the characters, and what happens in the story.
- Listen and give feedback.

- Ask learners to retell the stories they have read to their partner.
- Walk around the room, observe learners, and help those who are struggling with the exercise.

Conclusion (3 minutes)

Ask learners to say which of the stories they listened to were the most interesting and why.

- Discuss with learners more examples of good and bad behaviour learners show at school.
- Ask learners to work in pairs and discuss more forms of good and bad behaviour at school.
- Walk around and help struggling learners.
- Ask learners to report to the class forms of behaviour they have discussed in pairs.
- Listen and give feedback.

Activity 5.1.2

Oral Language: Giving effects of different forms of behaviour at school

Now we will learn meanings of words.

- Write the word improve on the chalkboard.
- Read the word aloud.
- Read the word again with learners several times.
- Ask learners who know the meaning of the word to raise their hands.

A list of adjectives with suffix –ous

Introduction
(2 minutes)
Ask learners to give examples of bad behaviour at school.

Activity 5.3.1
Oral Language: Asking and giving information about behaviour at school
(7 minutes)
Different learners show different types of behaviour at school. In this lesson, we will talk about behaviour that some learners show at school and their effects.

- Tell learners that some of the forms of behaviour that learners show at school might be good while others might be bad.
- Remind learners some of the effects of bad behaviour that were discussed in lesson 2. Say: Why is playing outside while others are learning in class bad? It is bad because you miss lessons.
- Help the learners to give effects of different behaviours shown at school.
- Ask learners to give effects of different behaviours shown by learners at school.
- Walk around and help struggling learners.
- Ask some learners to share effects of different behaviours to the class.
- Listen and give feedback.

Activity 5.3.2
Grammar: Forming adjectives with the suffix –ous
(8 minutes)
Remind learners that an adjective is a word that describes a person, place, or thing. One way of forming adjectives from other words is by adding the suffix –ous at the end of the word. Now we will form adjectives with the suffix –ous.

- Write the following words on the chalk board: danger, continue, courage.
- Read the words to the learners.
- Tell learners that an adjective formed from the word danger is dangerous. Dangerous has been formed by adding the suffix –ous to the word danger.
- Guide learners to form an adjective using the word continue. Explain that in some cases, the –e at the end of a word is dropped before adding the suffix –ous, such as in the words continue and fame.
- Ask learners to form adjectives using the words courage and fame in pairs.
- Walk around and help struggling learners.
- Ask some learners to share their answers to the class.
- Listen and give feedback.
Activity 5.3.3  Grammar: Writing adjectives with suffix -ous  (15 minutes)

Now we will pair words with adjectives formed by adding the suffix -ous.

- Tell learners to open their books at page 24.
- Go over the instruction and example for Example B.
- Discuss with learners items 1 and 2 of Exercise B.
- Repeat I Do and We Do if necessary.
- Ask learners to complete the exercise in their exercise books.
- Walk around and help struggling learners.
- Ask some learners to read their answers to the class.
- Listen and give feedback.

Conclusion  (3 minutes)
Ask learners to form more adjectives ending with suffix -ous.

Introduction  (2 minutes)
Ask learners to give some good behaviour they show at school.

Activity 5.4.1  Fluency: Reading a story using chunking  (5 minutes)
In one of the previous lessons, we learnt how to read groups of words that make sense with good speed. This is called chunking. Now, we will read the story The changed boy using chunking again.

- Ask learners to open their books at page 21.
- Remind learners how to read using chunking by reading the first paragraph in sensible parts.
- Read the first paragraph again with learners using chunking.
- Let learners read the rest of the text in pairs using chunking.
- Walk around and help struggling learners.
- Ask some learners to read to the class using chunking.
- Listen and give feedback.
Activity 5.4.2  Comprehension: Answering questions orally
(10 minutes)

Now we will answer comprehension questions from the story we have read.

- Ask learners to open their books at page 22.
- Read the first question: What are some of the behaviours of Chikondi and his friends?
- Model how to go back to the story to find the answer.
- Demonstrate answering the first question in full as: Chikondi and his friends liked playing outside during lessons.
- Read the second question with learners: What is Mrs. Malizani’s advice?
- Practice with the learners how to go back to the story to find the answer.
- Answer the second question with learners in full: Mrs. Malizani’s advice was not to play outside while others are in class.
- Let learners be in pairs.
- Ask the learners to answer the remaining comprehension questions orally.
- Listen to the answers and give feedback.

Activity 5.4.3  Comprehension: Generating questions
(15 minutes)

In one of the previous lessons, we learnt how to generate questions from the story The changed boy. In this activity, we will generate more questions from the story again.

- Remind the learners how to generate questions from a text by formulating an additional question and answer it. For example: Who advised Chikondi? Chikondi was advised by his teacher.
- Generate more questions from the story with learners and answer them. If you do not have answers to the generated questions, reread the story with the learners and find their answers.
- Tell learners to generate more questions from the story in pairs and answer them.
- Walk around and help struggling learners.
- Ask some learners to present to the class the questions they have generated and their answers.
- Listen and give feedback.

Conclusion

Activity 5.5.1
Oral Language: Expressing approval and disapproval
(10 minutes)

In one of the previous lessons, we talked about good and bad behaviour at school. We encourage good behaviour by approving it and discourage bad behaviour by disapproving it. In this lesson, we will express approval and disapproval on good and bad behaviour.

- Remind learners ways of expressing approval and disapproval. For example, Say: Do you play in class? Respond by saying No I don’t. Approve the behaviour by saying that’s good. Keep it up. If the answer is: Yes I do, then disapprove the behaviour by saying That’s bad. Don’t do it again.

- Help learners to express approval and disapproval on different forms of behaviour.

- Ask learners to be in pairs and practise approving and disapproving different forms of behaviour.

- Walk around and help struggling learners.

- Ask some learners to express approval and disapproval to the class.

- Listen and give feedback.

---

Activity 5.5.2
Grammar: Identifying adjectives with the suffix -ous
(8 minutes)

Now we will identify adjectives with the suffix –ous in sentences. Remember that an adjective describes a noun (a person, place, or thing).

- Write the following sentences on the chalkboard:
  1. He is a famous boy at school.
  2. Lions are dangerous animals.
  3. I am a joyous person today.
  4. There are various books on the table.

- Read the first sentence and tell learners that famous is an adjective in this sentence.

- Ask learners to read the second sentences aloud.

- Guide learners to identify an adjective in the second sentence.

- Ask the learners to be in pairs and identify adjectives in the remaining sentences.
• Walk around and help struggling learners.
• Ask learners to share their answers to class.
