

HOW TO DISCIPLINE YOUR LEARNERS WITHOUT PUNISHING THEM

Make the learner think about their bad behavior.

Advise and encourage the learner to behave well.

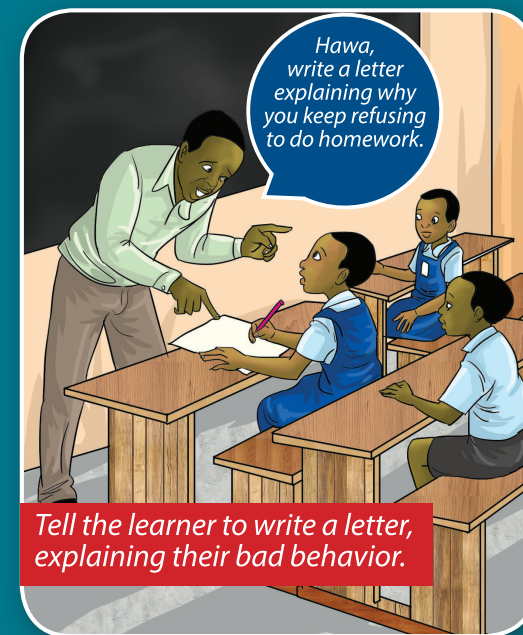

Send the learner out of the classroom for 5 minutes.

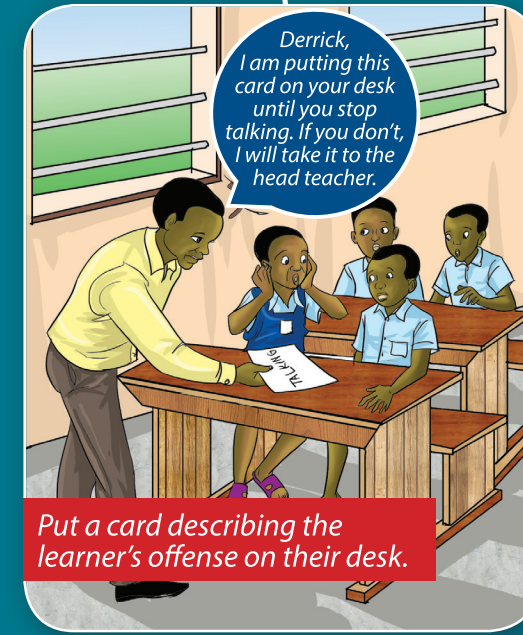

Make the learner apologize.

Give the learner a verbal warning.

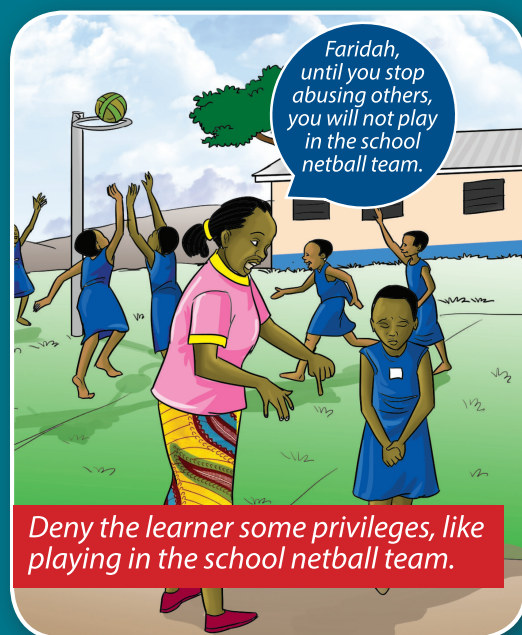

Tell the learner to write a letter, explaining their bad behavior.

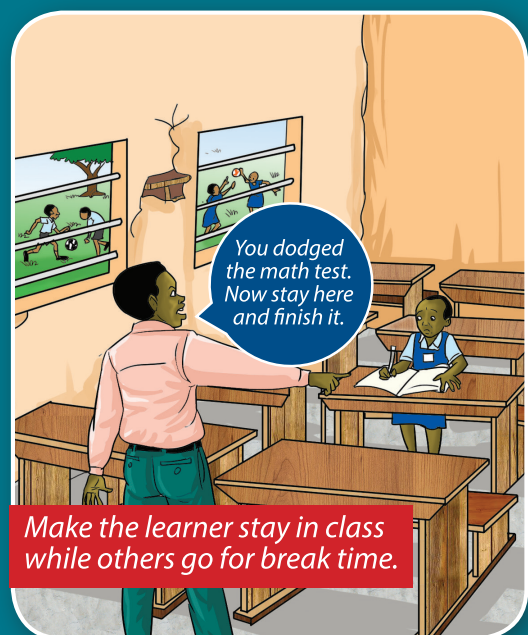

Put a card describing the learner's offense on their desk.

Help the learner to understand the consequences of their bad behavior.

Deny the learner some privileges, like playing in the school netball team.

Make the learner stay in class while others go for break time.

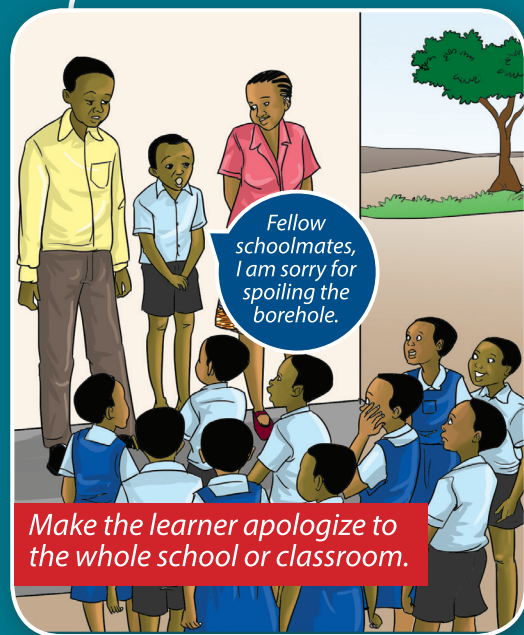

Make the learner sign a behavior contract.

Make the learner sit next to you.

Help the learner take responsibility for offenses that cause damage.

Make the learner apologize to the whole school or classroom.

Make the learner replace or repair what they have destroyed, like cleaning a wall they have written on.

Write the learner's bad behavior on their end of term report.

Help the learner rehabilitate when they commit very serious offenses.

Send the learner to the head teacher's office.

Suspend the learner.

Call the learner's parents to come to school.